THE SOUTH IN THE SADDLE. NOW THE FOURTEENTH AND FIFTEENTE AMEND-MENTS ARE NULLIFIED.

Senator William E. Chandler, in The July Forum.

MENTS ARE NULLIFIED.

Senaior William E. Chandler, in The July Forum.

And now so it is that the South which, during more than half a century, dominated the nation by means of slavery and the power which slavery gave, has, after a period of reconstruction prolonged by crim's against the freedmen, again seized the reins of government, and has rewarded itself for its rebellion by increased representation in Congress and in the body of electors which chooses a Fresident. The North is supposed to have conquered. The Union is saved in form. The terms of peace, reunion, and reconciliation were the Thirteenth Amendment, abolishing slavery; the Fourteenth, omitting the colored people from the basis of representation in States where they are not allowed to vote; and the Fifteenth giving the colored citizen the ballot in all elections, State or National. The Thirteenth and Fifteenth are a dead letter, openly and flagrantly disobeyed. Suffrage at the South for the black man does not exist; for the white man even it is almost a farce. A few leaders in each State, combining with similar coteries in other States, form an olizarchy which wields the whole political power of the solid South. United with the Democratic party of the North, who expect to entrol by corruption or fraud a few Northern States. They are able, always alert, and whenever not opposed are plausible, courteous, and full of kind and patriotic professions; resisted, their geniteness proves like that of tigers; they become flerce and defiant, sometimes brutal.

The North needs to undeceive itself. The South is in the saddle, and it means to stay there. It has the executive branch of the Government, it almost controls he legislative, it is reaching forward to the indicial branch. It threatens the manufacturing and all other industries of the North on account of the temporary ascendency of the latter during the era of rebellion and reconstruction. The South will not again make the mistake of secssion. It is easier and safer to rule the nation of 1844 gave will n would be sustained by a Congress Republican in both branches.

Although in the coming contest the votes of the negro will be unconstitutionally suppress d and the South terhaus solidly Democratic, our Southern masters can be defeated if the commercial interests of the the country are sufficiently aroused. They will do well to take the alarm. The indifference of the business men of the North to the encroachments of slavery made the war possible, and compelled the expenditure of six thousand millions to preserve the Union. It is better to protect our industries by a contest now, when they are yet under royed, than to fight to restore them after they have been stricken down and chains are riveted upon our limbs.

If Victory is achieved, the conditions of reconstruction enforced, obedience to the Constitution in all its parts compelled and the vote of the Northern man, white or black, made equal to that of the Southern man, white or black, neither the North nor the South need fear negro supremacy.

Manhood suffrage was first tried immediately

Manhood suffrage was first tried immediately Manhood suffrage was first tried immediately after a war-made by the masters to strengthen their hold on their slaves—had resulted in the discomflure of the former and the freedom of the latter, but had disorganized society. In its reorganization the late masters refused to participate: the freedom en went ahead, and did as well as they could. The failure, if it be such of the first experiment will not be repeated under new conditions and better auspices. The charge that the two races cannot live side by side in the Southern States in political equality, the veters of each race freely participating in all elections, has not been proved. It is a mere clamor raised to excuse the suppression of the negro vote in order to obtain partisan power in State and Nation. Wherever the experiment of impartial suffrage has been tried with any approach to fairness and good will on the part of the whites, it has been remarkably successful. The colored men are not aggressive; they are docile, well-disposed, and maxrous, if allowed to enjoy what it has been remarkably successful. The colored men are not aggressive; they are docile, well-disposed, and anxous, if allowed to enjoy what they know to be their constitutional rights, to live penectully with their white neighbors. They submit readily to what is sometimes to them so effensively called the superior intelligence of the whites. They do not seek social equality. They are patient and long-suffering. But they will never permanently abandon the ballot, and whenever they reach the polls they will insist upon their right to vote the Republican ticket if they so wish. Their interests and their desires make them an ever-eager army of seven millions of people seeking their rights under the Fifteenth Amendment. In addition to this pressure, the manhood, the dignity, the self-respect, and the honor of all citizens of the North require that they should compel our Southern masters to desist from their attempt perpetually to rule, through crimes against the black man and against the Constitution, that country which they wickedly but vainly tried to destroy in order to fasten more firmly the chains of slavery, and to extend its accursed power and influence into the Territories of the Union.

ears (or the 5th-ave. Elevated R. R., when completed) is connection with the Bath Beach R. R. This property has for ove 100 years been the residence of the Benson family. Within the last six months over two miles of streets have been made, shiewalks sodded and paved, water mains laid, fences built, street shade trees and artistic flower-beds set out by Olmstead, tennis courts and Bensenhurst Station building constructed. This property is desirable either for summer or winter homes. It is on the ocean, fanned in summer by the cooling southwest breeze, while in winter the salt wind from the ocean tempers the air and makes this location less cold than New-York or Brooklyn. The remarkshile development of this Benson farm has at-tracted the attention of investors and speculators to the possibilities of the immense future value of this choicest

LONG ISLAND,

Is restricted exclusively to dwellings costing at least $3,000 cach, and all kinds of musances, including stables, are prohibited. From this it would seem as if New-York were really to have a select, quiet, neathly suburb, particularly adapted to the needs of lawyers, bankers and merohants, whose occupations are sedentary, with an easy distance by a delightful trip through the historic and picture-que old town of New-Utrecht.

Among the beautiful places in the immediate vicinity of "Bensoniurst" might be mantioned those of Dr. S. Fleet Speir, the eminent physician and sanitatian; Hon. Don M. Dickinson, of Michigan, Postmaster-General, and the Marine and Field Club. LONG ISLAND,
